More Invasion of Privacy Seen for Average Citizen

If you are a consciencious taxpayer, you're going to bristle.

It has to do with your government's discriminatory invasion of privacy policy. Not that it hasn't been going on for years, but there is a new concept by which it makes welfare recipients the protected gentry and labels the tax-earning citizen as suspect.

There are two pressures being exerted right now to implement these determinations.

One, at the federal level there is a move on to require banks to report at once any material increase in the depositor's bank balance.

For example, if you've been carrying $300 balance in your checking or savings account, and it is increased to $800 or $900, those in federal government want to be advised. Unquestionably, it is information that would be made known to the Internal Revenue Service.

It suggests that citizens who improve their financial status are dishonest—that they don't intend to report the additional income for tax purposes.

The other extreme—and this is the discrimination—is the state welfare department's ruling that welfare recipients' bank account may not be examined to test them for eligibility.

Deciphered, that means that the cowed worker and businessman—those who pay and pay—must suffer the indignity of opening his private records to the relentless scrutiny of that great horde of government workers in a test for dishonesty.

But, as a welfare recipient, even one who obviously has another source of income (even the most credulous can tell this by the recipients' fine clothes and fine cars) are protected from the prying eyes of welfare investigators because such information is "an invasion of privacy!"

In San Francisco, earlier this year, a welfare investigator charged that 80 per cent of the total welfare patrons were cheating.

But "invasion of privacy"—they've got that on backward. It is the non-welfare recipient whose privacy is already being invaded and it has been done to him for years each time some money is taken from him to pay an ineligible welfare patron!

A Protest on Taxes

"The taxes are indeed very heavy, and if those laid by the government were the only ones we had to pay, we might more easily discharge them, but we have many others, and much more grievous to some of us.

"We are taxed twice as much by our idleness, three times as much by our pride, and four times as much by our folly, and from these taxes the commissioners cannot ease or deliver us by allowing an abatement.

"But more important than these thoughts is the right of every American citizen to have distributed for his regular consumption all the accounts done by our Congress as well as by our city officials which he in the long run is forced to pay.

"At least we should be protected to that extent."

Jack Holt, Long-Time Resident Found Dead

Cremation is planned for Jack Noah Holt, 69, who lived for years at 7955 Broadway, Lemon Grove. His residence was the rear of his former liquor store which he closed nearly a decade ago.

Jack Holt

Local sheriff's deputies entered his premises through a screened window Friday evening following a report from Maurice Kahan that Holt did not respond to his knock and calls. Kahan, who operates Popular Delicatessen in Lemon Grove, told officers he decided to investigate Holt's absence. Holt visited the store regularly.

Police said Holt probably had been dead for 48 hours. He was on a cot, covered by a blanket. The coroner said he suffered a heart attack.

Holt was born in Tennessee and served 23 years in the U. S. Navy. He lived in the area since 1925.

He is survived by a daughter Susan Graham, of Costa Mesa.

There will be no services. Following cremation, his ashes will be scattered at sea. Funeral arrangements were handled by Goodbody.

High School District Sets Book Giveaway

More than 5,000 books will be given away free today by the Grossmont Union High School District, according to John Barrons, Assistant Superintendent of Educational Operations.

The books will be available from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Room 38, a small frame building behind the district's administrative offices, at the east end of Grossmont High School campus.

The book giveway attracts hundreds of East County residents every year. The books range in subject matter from science to foreign language texts, and include text books on Russian, Spanish, German and French, as well as some records. Also included this year will be shorthand books and shorthand transcription books.

"All the books are used. They are unsuitable for classroom use because of outdated subject material, or because they are just plain worn out," said Barrons. "The books have served their purpose for our district and have been offered to the community in limited numbers for personal use only.

"In some courses we are using new teaching methods, and of course books in history, geography, and social studies must be constantly updated to reflect changing physical boundaries and current events."

Texts are available in a variety of subject areas, including economics, biology, chemistry, driver education, foreign languages, home economics, English, literature, public speaking, history, and mathematics.

Cab Driver Instrumental In Spring Valley Drug Arrests

OPENING SOON — Workmen at the new Jerry Lewis Cinema in Casa de Oro are putting the finishing touches on the children's movie-house for the opening tomorrow night. The theatre, located adjacent to the Casa de Oro Professional Building on Campo rd., will specialize in family and children's films, according to local franchise owner L. M. Nelson, of Spring Valley. A special benefit grand opening will be held this evening, with proceeds going toward the building of a new children's hospital for Tijuana. Plenty of seats are still available for the benefit, Nelson said, and tickets will be available at the door. "Mary Queen of Scots" and "Ann of 1,000 Days" will be shown, and will continue for a one-week run.

Three Taken Into Custody After 'Buy'

One man and two women were arrested last week in Spring Valley on charges of possession of dangerous drugs and the sale of dangerous drugs.

Booked in County Jail were Morris W. Lambert, 29, who told arresting officers that he was a transient, and Bonnie J. Dowdle, 29, of Walnut, California. A third person, also from out of the area, was arrested but later released after disavowing any knowledge of an alleged transaction involving amphetamines.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the male suspect reportedly approached a cab driver near a Spring Valley bar and offered a quantity of "mini-bennies". The cab driver reported that he declined the offer but indicated that he knew someone who might make the purchase.

The cabbie told the suspect to park his car in a market parking lot near the corner of Jamacha rd. and Elkelton blvd. and that he would meet him there 40 minutes later.

The cab driver then telephoned the Sheriff's Department and informed deputies of the occurance. Deputies were stationed near the area, and the cab driver was informed to switch on his emergency warning light atop the vehicle if the "buy" was made.

Deputies then observed the action from a distance, then moved in when the warning light went on.

Upon arrival of the deputies, the cabbie turned over 42 pills and indicated that the suspect had taken $5 in the transaction. The suspect, and two females in the suspect vehicle were arrested and transported to the Lemon Grove substation in a patrol unit.

After arrival at the Lemon Grove substation, the rear seat of the patrol vehicle was checked, and 27 "mini-bennies" were found beneath it, linked to the female suspect, Bonnie Dowdle. The third suspect, who disavowed knowledge of the transaction, was released at that time.

CHPA OK's Local Project For Hospital

The Comprehensive Health Planning Association, which monitors medical facilities in San Diego, Imperial, and Riverside Counties, gave approval to a proposed $8.6 million expansion for Grossmont Hospital.

Funds for the project were approved by voters of the Grossmont Hospital District in 1969, but the project was stalled recently when the CHPA determined that there was adequate bed space in the district for the next ten years.

When the Grossmont District Board of Governors learned of that, then administrator Everett Bristol was asked to resign and assistant administrator Ron Dahlgren was named acting administrator.

The district, having already spent over half a million dollars in architect, election, and attorney fees, re-applied for approval, which was granted at a CHPA meeting Monday.

The approval by CHPA was a preliminary one, with final approval to come later after hearings and a meeting by the CHPA regional board of directors September 11.

'Pot' Possession Charged In Spring Valley Arrests

Possession of marijuana charges were brought against two Spring Valley men last week after Sheriff's Department deputies answered a call regarding loud noises coming from parked vehicles.

Arrested were Stephen E. Bouring, 20, of 8655 Valencia st., Spring Valley, and Gregory W. Jones, 19, of 2877 Helix st., Spring Valley, both charged with possession of marijuana.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, complaints of loud noises from parked cars at the east end of Ivy lane were received at about 10 p.m. Monday evening.

Deputies were directed to the area, where they contacted Bouring, who was sitting in his parked car. As he stepped from the vehicle, a plastic bag containing what appeared to be marijuana fell from the open car door, reports indicated.

The suspect was then arrested, and the second suspect approached on foot and asked what the deputies were doing with his friend.

The second suspect was asked to identify himself, and he did so with an Arizona driver's license in the name of Gregory Jones.

Jones was asked which vehicle was his, and he indicated that he owned a pick-up truck and pointed it out to deputies. Deputies asked to see registration for the vehicle, and he was unable to produce any.

Deputies then checked the glove box of the vehicle for any registration or proof of ownership, but found a "roach", or the butt of a marijuana cigarette, instead.

A further search of the vehicle netted four ounces of marijuana, contained in plastic bags.

Both suspects were transported to County Jail.

Drug Abuse Team Returns After Training

A team of six local residents returned home last week after spending two weeks of intensive training in drug abuse and related problems.

The training program was conducted by the Institute for Social Concerns in Oakland and is financed by a federal grant from the Office of Education. The Lemon Grove School District submitted the grant proposal to the Office of Education and recruited the local participants.

Those attending were Bill Johnson, Co-Director of United Project Understanding; Linda Meyers, student; John Strub, teacher at Palm Junior High; Bill Trask, student; Jewell Hooper, retired civil service employee; and Verna Quinn, housewife.

The primary objective of the training is to develop aware and knowledgeable people at the grass roots level in communities across the nation. Special emphasis is given to drug facts and the social problems that lead to drug abuse.

Opportunities were also provided for participants to observe programs in other cities that are already underway such as "Sunrise House" in Salinas, the Berkeley Free Clinic in Berkeley and the "Family" at Mendocino.

Sups Defer Action On CPO Deadline

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The county will not sign the new joint powers agreement of the Comprehensive Planning Organization by the suggested deadline of Aug. 15, if, indeed, it ever does.

The JPA was on the agenda Tuesday and was merely filed by the board.

Chief Administrative Officer Fred J. Morey advised the board that he is producing a full analysis of the JPA and "probably some things that aren't in it."

However, no date was set for the board to consider the matter except a vague "in late August."

The county won't be holding the formation of the independent staff up, however, because the county has already put $200,000 into the operation of CPO and this is expected to tide it over for three months.

After that, city money is expected to support it.

The new agreement will give the CPO the power to accept and spend money and make contracts. San Diego City will be the umbrella agency for auditing and handling money.

Until now, all of these functions have been handled by the county under the direction of the CPO policy committee. Although there has been a so-called CPO staff, the entire county array of services was available to CPO—a situation that will no longer exist.

Supervisor William A. Craven is the board representative to CPO and has one voice, whereas the 13 cities have 13 voices, at least at the policy committee meetings.

Craven does not think CPO is the way to go. Tuesday, he said, "It galls me the way this thing has gone.

"We started out with an innocent review body to look at federal grant programs. They then became a Council of Governments, got the right to disperse money and this will undoubtedly lead to something else.

"I still feel we are building another government with these moves."

Richard Earns Honors

Marc Richard, of Lemon Grove, was among those students who achieved status on the Dean's Honor List at Central College of Iowa for the third term.

To be named to the Dean's List, a student must receive at least a 3.33 grade point average, according to James W. Graham, dean of the college.

The college, associated with the Reformed Church of America, is headquartered in Pella, Iowa, with branch campuses in Austria, France, Spain, and Mexico.

The Second Marine Division Assn. will hold its 23rd annual reunion in San Diego Aug. 3-6 at Royal Inns.

Eight-Year-Old Boy Drowns At 'Hansen's Pond'

Kennth Rainey, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rainey, of 3346 San Carlos dr., Spring Valley, was victim of a drowning accident Wednesday afternoon last week at "Hansen's Pond", a small open pond near the intersection of Sweetwater Springs and Jamacha blvds. in Spring Valley.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the boy and his 11-year-old sister were playing on a six by six-foot raft in the spring-fed pond when he slipped into the water.

The County Coroner's Office indicated that the victim's mother and sister recovered him, but they slipped as they attempted to put him on the raft, and he went under again.

'Ah, Wilderness' Is Mt. Miguel Production

Eugene O'Neill's bright comedy, "Ah, Wilderness!" will be presented by Mt. Miguel's Drama Workshop August 2 and 3 at 8 p.m.

The story tells of young Richard, rebellious son of newspaper owner Nat Miller. Richard is in love with Muriel McComber, and means to marry her, but, because of Richard's anarchist views, Muriel's tightwad father breaks up their engagement, and bans Richard from ever seeing Muriel again.

"With the deterioration of the family unit in our modern society, 'Ah, Wilderness!' stands bravely up for all those ideals that keep a family together," according to director John Adams.

Tax to Fund Construction Of 'Valhalla'

The Grossmont Union High School District Board of Trustees voted Monday night to levy a special 27-cent override tax to fund construction of Valhalla High School, the district's ninth high school which will be constructed in the Hillsdale area just east of Spring Valley.

The proposed high school, which was originally to be funded from $2.4 million of a bond issue passed in 1967, was delayed because of inflation, growth of the area, and other factors.

The district then sought money for the project in a bond election last October, but voters in the district rejected the idea of pay for the same construction twice, and the issue was defeated.

The 27-cent tax, which will be levied for one year only, will build a "stripped down" model of the proposed project, with the remainder of the $6.9 million facility to be funded and built at a later date.

In addition to the one-year override tax, the board agreed to levy a 6-cent tax over a period of seven years for the purpose of constructing a new continuation school, an adult school, and a sheltered workshop for handicapped youngsters.

Car Washes To Aid Helix Band

Six car washes in two weeks will help fund traveling for the Helix High School Highlander Marching Band.

Three car washes will take place Saturday, at the U. S. National Bank at 7946 Broadway, Lemon Grove; at the Texaco service station at Center dr. and Jackson in La Mesa; and at the Union Oil service station at El Paso and Lake Murray in La Mesa. Three more "washes" will be held the following Saturday at the same locations.

The car washes, with work done by members of the band, will cost $1, with tickets available in advance from band members or at the site of the car wash.

Rezone Denied For 6.67 Acres In Casa de Oro

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A rezone from R-1 to R-3 in the Valle de Oro Community Planning area went down to predictable defeat Friday in a unanimous vote of the county planning commission.

Anna J. Kendall was the applicant for 6.67 acres East of Conrad and Estrella drives.

The county staff said it opposed to the rezone because the proposal was contrary to the general plan and represents an intrusion of multiple family (apartments) zoning into a clearly established and developed low density single-family residential area.

The staff report also said that the upzoning would be in clear violation of county policy in citizen planning areas. Such rezones are discouraged unless there are special circumstances and the department said none existed in this case.

A representative of the applicant said that the land could not be economically developed for single family residences.

The application was the subject of a local protest.

GRADING — Church grounds at Foothills United Methodist Church on Avocado blvd. in Casa de Oro are undergoing grading as the church prepares to construct a combined pre-school and youth center building, along with remodeling work on the sanctuary, according to pastor Floyd Zerbe.. The church was constructed in 1964.

New Building Planned For CdO Church

Foothills United Methodist Church on Avocado blvd. in Casa de Oro, is in the midst of a building change, according to the pastor, Rev. Floyd Zerbe.

The program includes enlarging the intermediate sanctuary, at the south of the church, and remodeling of the sanctuary. On the way is a new 2-story building, east of the church; the first floor will be for children's divisions and week-day pre-school; the upper floor will be the youth center. The walls on both floors will be portable, equalling eight rooms at the top, as well as a kitchenette, and five rooms on the lower floor.

The present education building will be remodel after the present project is completed. A new parking lot is also planned. The architect is Del Meinung of the local area and Ray Haas is the general contractor. Overall cost of the project will be $183,000.

Foothills Methodist Church had its beginning in Spring Valley in 1958, holding its first few services in a garage in the area.

It later moved into the S.V. Chamber of Commerce building on Memory ln.; then to the S.V. Friends Community Church at Bancroft and Kenwood drs.; and then to the old Casa de Oro Baptist Church.

At that time Rev. James King was the Pastor. The new church opened its doors in 1960 with Rev. King still the Pastor. Floyd Zerbe became the new Pastor in 1964.

Registration Opens For New Students

New residents of the Grossmont Union High School District area with high school age students may register now for the fall semester.

Parents need not accompany students in order for them to register, although it is advised. If possible, the student should bring a copy of his last grade report from his previous school, but that is not necessary for registration.

It is advised that the school office be called before visiting, to guarantee that an appointment may be made with a counselor to aid the student in selecting his course of study.

Neighbors should be able to inform a new resident of the name of the high school which serves his area. If not, a neighborhood elementary or junior high school should know which high school it feeds into.

Pannell Inks Cardinal Pact

Bob Pannell, who was the star pitcher for the Mt. Miguel High School baseball team during the past two seasons, signed a contract last week with the Saint Louis Cardinals.

Pannell, a right-handed pitcher who boasted one of the top prep fastballs in the county, is now in Sarasota, Florida, where he is playing with a Cardinal rookie team.

It was not known how much the contract was worth, but Duane Freeman, Pannell's baseball coach at Mt. Miguel, indicated that the 5-10, 165-pounder received a bonus.

Pannell achieved some fame last summer, when he won three games in one day during the American Legion season. He twirled the final inning of a postponed game, picking up the victory, then pitched both ends of a doubleheader, winning both games.

Pannell, the second area ballplayer to ink a professional contract, had a 2.62 earned run average and a 6-5 record, to go along with his junior record of 2.26 and 5-4.

The other area player playing professional ball for the first time is Gary Phillips, of Lemon Grove, who signed with the San Diego Padres.

Iran is sparsely populated.

Lemon Grove Stars Win Opening Tourney Games

The Lemon Grove Bobby Sox Minor League all-star team was the only local team to make it through the weekend undefeated in the area all-star tournament, played at Lemon Grove Junior High.

The championship game was to be played Wednesday, with details next week.

Expected to reach the finals were South Bay and Lemon Grove, the only two teams in the tourney who weren't beaten last weekend.

Lemon Grove made it to the third round unscathed by romping Jamacha Hills, 13-1, in the opening round, then swamping Spring Valley 17-5 in the second round.

South Bay put victories over Otay Mesa, 17-5, and Valley Mesa, 14-13, together to remain unbeaten.

The tournament opened Saturday with Chula Vista squaring off against Valley Mesa, with the Mesans claiming a 6-4 come-from-behind decision. Chula Vista held a 4-2 lead after five innings, but Valley Mesa scored twice in the bottom of the sixth to knot the score and twice more in the eighth inning to get the extra-inning victory.

The next two teams to take the field were Otay Mesa and South Bay. South Bay scored in every inning to claim the 17-5 decision, including four runs in the first frame and five runs in the fourth inning.

Host team Lemon Grove then took on Jamacha Hills in a battle of local teams, with Lemon Grove claiming a 13-1 win. Lemon Grove opened with a four-run outburst in the first frame and continued on for the decision.

Three games were played on Sunday.

Chula Vista opened the day with an 11-9 victory over Otay Mesa, eliminating Otay from the tournament. Chula Vista, down by a run after four innings, came back to score four times in the fifth to win the game.

Lemon Grove then took the field against Spring Valley, which byed into the second round. In the second battle of local teams, Lemon Grove never trailed, taking 4-0, 10-2, and 17-2 leads before winning via a 17-5 count. Terry Nicholas ripped a grand slam for the winners.

In the weekend's final game, South Bay made it into the winners bracket, edging Valley Mesa, 14-13, in a wild come-from-behind affair.

South Bay trailed by 13-9 after six innings, but came up with five runs in the top of the seventh to take a slim one-run lead. Valley Mesa couldn't get the tying run across the plate in the last half of the inning.

The major league tournament involving major loop stars from the same leagues will begin Saturday, also at Lemon Grove Junior High.

For a short period between the 13th and 17th centuries, when spectacles were first being used, women were forbidden to wear eyeglasses for fear that they would become vain. Oddly enough, vanity is one of the major reasons why many women today wear contact lenses, reports the San Diego County Optometric Society, with approximately 78 percent of all contact lens wearers being female.

Senior Bowl To Aid Los Ninos Center

Three local athletes will be among the county all-star team August 4 when the county takes on the city stars in the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce-sponsored Senior Bowl at San Diego Stadium.

Tim Miller, Jack Hook, and Rick Wells, all graduates of Mt. Miguel High School, are the local entrants in the star-studded battle.

The county team will probably rate the edge, but the real winners won't be on the field.

They are the children of the Los Ninos Remedial Center in San Diego. All of the net proceeds of the football game will be donated to Los Ninos, which has been established for the treatment of autistic or autistic-like children.

An autistic child, generally, is one who has withdrawn in to himself and cannot communicate with the society around him. Most autistic children do not speak at all, but live in a lonely and unbreakable trance. The child typically appears to be healthy and normal; often has a very high IQ; and nearly always has completely normal brothers and sisters.

Although he functions below his age level, the autistic child can be helped to adapt to his environment with proper treatment and education. Untreated, such children traditionally end up in state institutions for the rest of their lives.

The Los Ninos Remedial Center is the only facility in San Diego County devoted to handling autistic and autistic-like children. The Center was started in 1971 and is currently operating in a loaned church building and on a minimal budget. The funds received from the football game will help to meet the budget in the coming year.

Tickets for the encounter, priced at $3 for adults and $1.50 for youngsters under 18 years of age, are available at the office at Mt. Miguel or at Berry's Sporting Goods in Lemon Grove.

Evans Named Gulls Coach McNab Makes Veep; Holds GM

The "domino effect" came to the Gulls last week — and with it came two well-deserved promotions.

Dominos are toppling because of the new World Hockey League's recruitment pressure on major and minor league hockey franchises.

In San Diego the fall-out resulted in the naming of Jack "Tex" Evans as coach of the Gulls succeeding Max McNab. McNab, until now, coach and general manager of the team, was promoted to the vice-presidency but retains his post as general manager. The promotion will give McNab more time to deal with hockey's progressively sticky executive problems.

McNab announced Evans' promotion at a press conference last week. Gulls president Bob Breitbard then announced McNab's advancement.

Evans, 44, a veteran of 24 professional seasons, the last five of which were with the Gulls as defenseman, will not play. He will devote his entire time to coaching.

Evans has played in 1584 regular season pro contests and has seen action with twelve different teams in three leagues during his career. He broke in with the New York Rangers in 1948 for a three game stint after playing most of that season with the amateur Lethbridge Maple Leafs. He went up to the professional ranks to stay in 1949 where he spent most of the year with the New Haven Rambers of the American Hockey League.

He was up and down between the New York Rangers and the Saskatoon Quakers (WHL) until 1955 when he made it to the National League to stay. He spent three full seasons with the Rangers and then moved over to enjoy five great years with the Chicago Black Hawks. He was on the 1960 Black Hawks Stanley Cup championship team.

His career ended in the NFL following the 1962 campaign, but his pro work continued in the minor leagues the following season. He moved on to the Buffalo Bisons, Los Angeles Blades, Vancouver Canucks and California Seals before joining the Gulls in 1967.

To become the coach, Jack decided to end his long and successful playing career.

McNab, who was the only coach the Gulls ever knew, fits well into the ranks of business executive. In San Diego he developed a reputation for giving straight answers; for being honest and truthful, and being universally admired by the local sportscasting-sportswriting gentry. This is a posture few sports executives have ever held among sports reporters — the latter having the reputation for being probing and cynical.

Bob Breitbard said "Max McNab is the finest executive in all hockey. His success with the Gulls over the past six years was made entirely through his own efforts."

Under Evans there will probably be a more aggressive game of hockey in the Sports Arena. At least, that's what Evans promises. "My players will demand their share of the ice," he said.

"I can predict the Gulls will be a tough, hard-nosed club, one of which San Diego will be proud."

Lemon Grove Stars Out Of Tournament

By Ed Varley

The slants of Southeastern League pitcher Craig Daniels proved too much for the Lemon Grove Little Leaguers in the District 42 tournament at Twin Hills Little League Field last Thursday.

Daniels' smoke-ball delivery sent the local boys down to defeat, 3-0, and eliminated them from competition for the coveted trip to Williamsport, giving up just one hit.

Lemon Grove pitcher, Ray Cox, allowed only five scattered hits but three errors were instrumental in putting Southeastern's three tallies on the scoreboard. Although defensive lapses accounted for Southeastern's runs, only fielding gems by some of the Lemon Grove Little Leaguers prevented a higher score.

Third baseman, Casey Tiumalu was one of the defensive standouts. In the first inning, he raced in on a bunt and rifled a throw to first base to nip the runner. He made another outstanding play in the third inning, refusing to be moved by a sliding runner. In the same inning, centerfielder Ronnie Clark charged in to snag a pop-fly, then backed up against the fence to turn a near-homer into the third out of the inning.

Ring Action Friday; Followed by O'Halloran In State Title Fight

The Coliseum has come alive with fighting!

A combination of Lou Lake, as promoter, and Jack O'Halloran, as fighter, has done more for boxing than those who preceded them for a decade.

Lake and O'Halloran — the latter who has acquired the soubriquet "The La Jolla Lip" — are not two of a kind. Lake is a tall, quiet, handsome, black man who underplays his role as promoter. The Lip is a big, (6-4), gangling Boston Irishman who tips the scales at 245 and appears anxious to fight all comers and celebrate his victories — and losses — at local watering spots — notably Bully's East in Mission Valley. And it should come as no surprise that the two strong men, dissimilar in temperament, cannot occupy the same room without a vocal donnybrook erupting.

Meanwhile, the town's sterling heavyweight, Ken Norton, a journeyman boxer with about as much personality as a highway patrol officer issuing a citation, was drawing half a house or less, while O'Halloran's supporters have been as numerous as they have been noisy.

Lake brought world fourth-ranking welterweight Hedgemon Lewis here Friday to fight Mario Marquez, a revitalized cement mason from Mexico. Lewis finished him in 2 rounds to about 1,500 fans. Few fighters of Lewis' stature appeared here before Lake became promoter.

Lake has booked five matches totaling 30 rounds for Friday of this week. All of the matches have at least one "comer". One of the gladiators to weigh in Friday is a Lemon Grove heavyweight Gary Gahn. He fought Charles Brooks of Los Angeles to a draw Friday night — so there's a 4-round rematch.

A bout that is certain to have action is the local debut of Les Baker, a featherweight titleholder in South Africa. He will take on David Herrera who has had the misfortune to get into the ring the last two times out.

Other bouts include Mike Mayon vs. Tony Romero in an 8-round lightweight fray; featherweights Waymon Young and Butch Contreras who will mix it for 8 rounds and middleweights Al DeNova and Felton Marshall to wrap it up — 30 rounds in all.

But back to O'Halloran. He's carded for a Wednesday (Aug. 9) night fight for the state championship against Henry Clark. Clark outpointed him here last month in a non-title fight but took a good beating about the face before it was over. After which O'Halloran announced that he is no longer going to be a gentleman fighter. "You (bleep) sportswriters and referees want blood. I'm going to give it to you." He didn't mean his own. He's never been cut.

He told members of the Sportscaster / Sportswriters Assn., this week that he would take Clark in seven. "And its up to the referee to see that I don't kill him," the Lip said.

Incongruous as it may be, Lake, the quiet one, is the promoter of Clark-O'Halloran fight. He'll need ear muffs.

Incidentally, O'Halloran is the only professional fighter who claims La Jolla as his home. Spend 10 minutes with O'Halloran and you'll get the idea for the second half of the La Jolla Lip.

All in all, as the English would say, it's bloody good fun. Friday's card starts at 8 and the house is scaled $2.50-$5. MG.

Roloff Falls Twice In SB Track Races

A bruised Earl Roloff, of Spring Valley, continued his quest for the points championship at South Bay Speedway last Sunday, though rather unsuccessfully, as he fell twice in the evening motorcycle racing program.

Roloff, who leads Ward Ring in the California Motor Racing Enterprises points race, fell in the heat race for the 250cc TT race while leading the field. He still managed to come back in the main event for ninth place, although his machine was forced out of the heat race.

"Rubber Bones" Roloff was as it again in the 250 cc flat track heat race, falling in the last lap while running third.

In between spills, the local rider managed third place in the 125 cc TT main event, and fourth place in the Open TT feature program, riding a 360 cc Yamaha.

Two other local riders, Pat Guthery, of Spring Valley, and Richard Ribley, of Lemon Grove, also placed in weekend competition at the dirt track raceway.

Guthery placed third in the 250 cc TT main event and added a seventh place in the 250 cc half mile feature. Ribley placed sixth in the Open TT main event.

SDG&E advertises.

Because we have a lot to say...

To our customers.
We supply about 1,500,000 people with a very basic need...energy. And since we're the only people who do, we have a big responsibility to fill another basic need...information. So, through advertising, we let you know the whys and wherefores of rate changes, the possibilities of future power sources, problems that may affect your power supply and how we're operated and controlled for your benefit.

To home managers.
Through advertising, we let you know about SDG&E's wide range of services...monthly homemaking shows, free recipes, home service calls when you've got trouble, consumer information and a whole library of appliance use booklets. All designed to help you make the most of our product...and the money you spend on it. That's customer service. And that's what we're all about.

To our critics.
Utilities have become a popular target for attacks by special interest groups. And we respect that freedom. But we have 3,500 employees who work hard to bring you the best service at the lowest possible rates. And who work for a better environment through power plant modifications, undergrounding and environmental research. Because they enjoy living here, too.

We also have 30,000 investors who've put their money where their faith is. In SDG&E. Our advertising serves as a voice for these people who deserve to have their side of the story told. And it does wonders for employee morale...which, in turn, means better service for you.

To our competition.
You can't shop around for gas and electricity like you do for furniture or food. Because it would be wasteful and costly for an area to have several duplicate utility systems and operating costs. But SDG&E still must compete. We compete for the best employees and executives. Our advertising is designed to attract the kind of people who will give you the kind of service you've learned to expect from SDG&E. We also compete for investors. Expansion to meet your increasing energy needs requires a great deal of capital. Much of this money comes from investors who have confidence in our present and future capabilities. And much of this confidence comes from an investor's knowledge of SDG&E as it is communicated through its advertising.

To the community.
SDG&E is a member of this community. Just like you and your neighbors. So we have an obligation to let you know what we are contributing to its well-being. And to share its common problems. Our most recent series of ads on the environment and our role in its protection is an example of how advertising helps us fulfill this obligation.

Advertising is simply the least expensive and most efficient way to communicate with 500,000 customers. To reach you all by mail would cost about 16¢ a customer. In fact, the postage alone for 500,000 letters amounts to $40,000. Yet, to reach you through advertising...whether it be a newspaper, television or radio message...costs less than a penny per person. And when you consider the services, information and understanding that less-than-a-penny buys, our advertising is one of the best bargains around. Almost as good as dependable gas and electricity.

SDG&E SAN DIEGO GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY
We do more than just care. We let you know.

Palsy Foundation Gets $75,000 Federal Grant

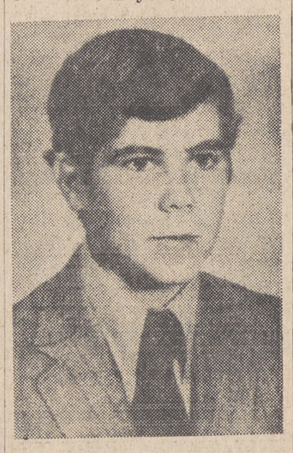
The United Cerebral Palsy Foundation of San Diego County has received a three-year, $75,000 federal grant for an unusual program designed to develop self-help potential in cerebral palsied adults.

The grant calls for $24,700 from the federal government for the first year of an "independent living program," to be provided at the UCP Center at 7947 Birmingham drive. Some 30 cerebral palsied adults will take part in the program — aimed at preparing them for lives outside of institutions.

The federal funds, under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, have been approved by the regional office of the Federal Division of Developmental Disabilities. They will allow the local agency to establish a five-day adult program for 30 clients presently participating in a three-day weekly program.

James Minor Wins $8,000 Scholarship

James Minor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Minor, of 2324 Edgerton dr., Lemon Grove, was recently awarded the $8,000 Spence-Reese Scholarship by the San Diego Area Council of Boys Clubs.



Minor, who was one of three 1972 valedictorians at Mt. Miguel High School, will attend San Diego State University as an engineering major. He was one of four youngsters who earned the scholarships, one in each of the fields of engineering, science, medicine, and law.

The scholarship winner was involved in extra curricular activities at Mt. Miguel as well as his scholastic efforts, including the school wrestling team, the campus key club, and student government.

'Cabaret' At Grossmont's Stagehouse

The Communication Arts/Drama and Music Departments of Grossmont College will join forces to present a summer musical production "Cabaret," August 2-5 and 9-12 at 8:30 each evening in the campus Stagehouse Theatre.

The unusual musical, from a book by Joe Masterhoff, features music by John Kander and lyrics by Fed Ebb. The main action takes place in the Kit Kat Club of pre-World War II Berlin where the major attraction is a brassy American singer named Sally Bowles.

Aided by a disreputable master of ceremonies and an international collection of misfits, Sally creates an aura that all may not be right by the world but if you ignore it, it may go away. Needless to say, it doesn't. The war comes. Jews are massacred by the millions and disillusionment and despair shatter all hope that life can be sustained on false dreams and pacifism.

"Cabaret" will be directed by Clark G. Mires with sets designed by James W. Baker. Charles W. MacLeod will provide the orchestration and music direction while David L. Glismann will serve as choral director. Choreography will be by Clark G. Mires and Kathy Rump. Gary Parsons will serve as technical director, Diane Kucala will design the costumes and Sam Sypolt will serve as stage manager.

The public is invited to see the unusual musical performed by students in Grossmont College's Summer Session draa, music and vocal classes. The price of admission is $1.50 by reservation. Reservations may be made by calling the Communication Arts/Drama Department, 465-1700, Ext. 327.

Classes meet for four hours each day, five days per week, between August 7 and August 29. A student may take only one course during the summer session. Summer school lets out at noon each day.

Students who are interested in the session should stop by their local school and sign up for their course or talk to a counselor. A student may, however, simply show up in class on the first day of school in order to enroll.

Perch fishes are found in Europe, Asia and North America.

New Gasoline State Sales Tax Cause For Consumer Confusion

Gasoline sales tax got you confused? Does the price posted on curb signs have to agree with the pump price? Can a station tack on a flat two-cents-per-gallon sales tax?

Confusion has been caused by the new states sales tax on gasoline, which adds an additional tax of five percent to the present 11-cents-per-gallon tax. The tax collections began July 1.

The confusion is reaching the San Diego County Sealer of Weights and Measures, the agency responsible for this segment of consumer protection, according to Chief Deputy Sealer Robert T. Frazier.

"Three situations seem to be fairly common," Frazier noted. "In some instances large curb signs post a price that is less than that on the pumps. In others, the curb signs and pump prices agree. And in still others, a flat two cents per gallon has been added into the pump computers as sales tax.

"While customers may feel the first example is unfair advertising, it isn't illegal under current law, so long as the price in the pump computers is exactly 5% more than the advertised price. But charging a flat 2 cents a gallon sales tax is illegal unless the actual selling price is 40 cents a gallon.

"Citizens noting this latter type of practice should report them to this office," Frazier said.

He also said the California Board of Equalization, which administers and receives sales tax, is also interested in halting the practice.

Frazier said there is an apparent reluctance of some service stations to include the 5% sales tax in the price of the gasoline if the final price does not end with .9 cents.

"Pump computers can be set to any tenth of a cent. For instance, if the advertised price is 27.9 cents per gallon, then the pump should show the correct price to be 29.3 cents, but never 29.9 cents which is overcharging for sales tax," Frazier said.

He said it is also legal for stations to leave their pump computers unchanged and to use sales tax charts provided by the Board of Equalization, which is the most common.

"The confusion is likely to continue until the State Legislature, Attorney General, or the courts take action which will standardize the way gasoline sales tax is to be collected," Frazier said.

A question has already been raised in the courts as to the legality of the sales tax, which has been called "a tax on a tax," since it is computed on the total selling price of gasoline, which already includes the 11-cent gasoline tax.

Meanwhile, the County Sealer of Weights and Measures will continue to investigate complaints reported at 239-7711, Ext. 336.

Spring Valley boys in the area to rescue the youth also proved fruitless. The mishap occurred at about 2:20 p.m.

Three divers from the search and rescue unit of the San Diego Council of Diving Clubs recovered the body at about 5:45 p.m.

According to Lemon Grove Sheriff's Office commander Barney Oldham, drownings at the pond occur frequently, indicating that one or two bodies are recovered each year.

There is no fence around the privately-owned pond, nor are there any "no trespassing" signs, he said.

Choral Salute To America Set At Grossmont

Grossmont College's Student Center will provide the setting for a Choral Salute to America at 4 p.m. August 6. Inspired by the forthcoming presidential election, the program will feature two works by American composers using poems about America written by American poets.

The first work will be by the famous American arranger and composer Roy Ringwald, a member of Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians, has taken the works of American poets who have written poems featuring specific historical events, placed them in chronological order and set them to music to tell the story of America from the time of Columbus until the Union was secure after the Civil War.

Poems used in this unusual thirty-minute work include "Columbus," by Joaquin Miller; "Evangeline" and "Song of Hiawatha," by Longfellow; "Concord Hymn," by Emerson; "Daniel Boone," by Arthur Guiterman and "O Captain My Captain," by Whitman. The second work, Howard Hanson's "Song of Democracy" is set to Walt Whitman's epic poem.

Singers in the Choral Salute to America will be a combined choir from the summer choir of Grossmont College and the San Diego Symphonic Chorale. Both choirs are directed by David L. Glismann of Grossmont College's Music Department faculty.

The public is invited to enjoy an afternoon choral concert featuring the work of some of America's greatest poets set to music. There is no charge for admission.

Kish School To Move

The Jeri Kish School of Ballet, of 3448 Main st., Lemon Grove, is moving to 6550 Federal blvd., according to Miss Kish, owner and operator of the school.

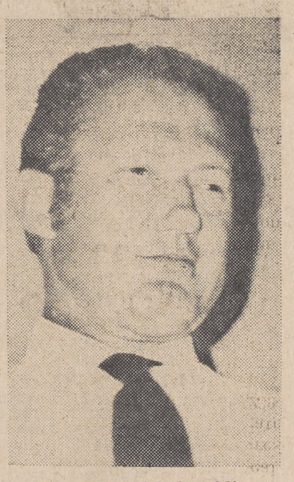
Miss Kish, who has been in business at the Main st. address for the past seven years, said that the move was mandated because the present building is scheduled for destruction in the fall to make room for an addition to a neighboring building.

Classes in the new facility will begin in August, she said.

Owen Opens Car Lot Here

John Owen, 44, of El Cajon, is a new member of Lemon Grove's business community, recently opening "Owen Motors" at 6867 Federal blvd.

The new business will deal in used cars, Owen said.



Owen, a certified public accountant and member of the American Institute of CPA's, has been associated with car dealerships for the past 15 years, although this is his first experience at owning and operating a dealership.

Larry Sutton, of El Cajon, is the firm's manager. Sutton has been in the business for over 20 years, buying and selling vehicles.

SDG&E Begins Ad Campaign

The San Diego Gas & Electric Company has started a local advertising campaign dealing with some of the major issues facing utilities.

Included in the series is a recent advertisement explaining the company's need to advertise.

Advertising by utilities has become a subject which is under fire by a number of citizens, and a few members of the state legislature.

"To our customers, we have a basic responsibility to provide communication explaining SDG&E's position on controversial issues. These issues need clarification to prevent confusion. Advertising is an inexpensive way for us to communicate with the more than one and one-half million persons who reside in our service territory," said SDG&E president Walter A. Zitlau.
